

It's as simple as this –
poor habitat, poor birds,
poor hunting.

As a waterfowler, I know how important Canadian wetlands are to my hunting tradition... and that's why I donate to Ducks Unlimited Canada.

With two-thirds of the most critical region for breeding waterfowl on the continent being in Canada, DUC's wetland conservation efforts are a vital part of keeping the skies full of waterfowl. Donate to DUC today and support wetland habitat conservation.
