CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION - ORGANIZATION CHART
AS AT MARCH 31, 2007

INTRODUCTION AND OVERVIEW

Report Structure

The Annual Report is organized in accordance with the Civil Service Commission's appropriation structure, which reflects the department's authorized votes approved by the Legislative Assembly. The Annual Report includes information at the main and sub-appropriation levels related to the department's objectives, actual results achieved, financial performance and variances, and provides a five year historical table giving the departmental expenditures and staffing.

Governing Legislation

The Civil Service Commission is the independent and impartial agency responsible for leading effective human resource management in government and representing the public interest in the administration of The Civil Service Act and Regulations. Treasury Board is responsible for the administration of sections of The Civil Service Act and Regulations relating to classification, pay plans, rates of pay and collective bargaining.

According to subsection 5(1) of The Civil Service Act, the Commission shall:

- apply and carry out the provisions of The Act and the Regulations under its responsibility;
- select and appoint civil servants, and be responsible for their promotion and transfer;
- advise the Minister having the administration of The Act on problems concerning human resource management administration;
- of its own motion or upon request of the Lieutenant Governor in Council investigate and report on:
 - the operation of The Act,
 - the violation of any provision of The Act or the Regulations,
 - any alleged impersonation, fraudulent practices, or irregularities in connection with any examination held by, or under the authority of, the Commission;and, on the request of a minister or the chief officer of an agency of government to which The Act applies, investigate and report to the minister or chief officer upon any human resource management matter relating to the department or to the agency of the government;
- appoint such employees as may be necessary to carry out The Act;
- perform such other duties and functions as may be assigned to the Commission by The Act or any other Act of the Legislature or by the Lieutenant Governor in Council.

Subsection 5(3) of The Act provides that the Commission may from time to time delegate its power or authority to sign any document, paper, minutes or instrument to such persons as it deems advisable.

The Civil Service Commission - Role

The Civil Service Commission works with the Treasury Board Secretariat to ensure effective development and delivery of a comprehensive human resource management service consistent with the provisions of The Civil Service Act, responsive to general government policy and supportive of departmental and/or broad organizational goals.

The Civil Service Act provides for the management, direction and administration of human resource management matters within the government service through the combination of a seven member Civil Service Commission Board and a department reporting through a deputy head to the Minister Responsible for The Civil Service Act.

The Civil Service Commission Board consists of citizen and civil service members. A citizen member is designated chairperson of the Commission Board. A full-time commissioner, who is a civil servant, is deputy head of the department of the Civil Service Commission.

Programs and policies respecting human resource management for the civil service are developed under the provisions of The Act and government policy direction and are implemented under the authority of the Civil Service Commission or the Lieutenant Governor in Council.

Vision

A well qualified and representative workforce dedicated to providing the highest standard in responsive public service.

Mission

Lead the development and implementation of human resource plans, policies and programs that are consistent with the provisions of The Civil Service Act and support government priorities and department efforts in sustaining a meritorious civil service.

Operating Principles

The Civil Service Commission is committed to:

- acting consistently with legislative requirements and government directions;
- being responsive to and collaborative with those dependent upon our services;
- providing ease of understanding and access;
- anticipating future demands and initiating appropriate responses;
- conducting ourselves in an exemplary manner and modeling the values espoused in our policies.

Goals

The policies, programs and services of the Civil Service Commission are dedicated to:

- attracting, retaining and engaging a service oriented, effective and representative workforce;
- building workplaces that increase performance and employee satisfaction;
- promoting employee well being and continuous development;
- strengthening the human resource management function;
- providing informed human resource advice.

Functional Organization

The Civil Service Commission currently consists of an Executive Office, which performs managerial functions and provides services to the Civil Service Commission Board and three program areas, which deliver its specialized programs and services. The departmental organization structure appears in the organization chart. Additional information on each of the three program areas is included in the text of this report.

As of fiscal year 1994-1995, Organization and Staff Development (OSD) has been operating as a Special Operating Agency. A separate annual report is prepared for OSD.

As of fiscal year 2002-2003, responsibility for Service Manitoba was transferred to the Civil Service Commissioner for overall guidance and direction. The activities of Service Manitoba are included in this report.

2006-2007 HIGHLIGHTS

Civil Service Renewal Strategy

The Civil Service Renewal Strategy is the most comprehensive, collaborative and sustained effort that has been undertaken to identify and resolve human resource issues.

As previously reported, the strategy has evolved from a means to address pending turnover because of retirements to a comprehensive and on-going plan that is revitalizing the civil service. The unprecedented attention on people matters continued to increase in 2006–2007. The goals of the strategy and the operational priorities of the Commission converged as there was recognition that advancing one would advance the other.

The goals of the Civil Service Renewal Strategy, as announced in October 2003, continue to be:

1. Renewal - working for the Government of Manitoba is a rewarding and attractive career
2. Sustainability – good service is maintained despite turnover and change
3. Diversity – greater representation exists at all levels in the civil service
4. Clarity – accountability for people development and leadership is clear

The nine-member Deputy Minister Advisory Committee on Human Resources, chaired by the Civil Service Commissioner, guides the implementation of the strategy. In the past three years, the committee has initiated more than 300 actions that have contributed to keeping and attracting the talent needed to protect and enhance service to the public. In 2006–2007 the committee focused its attention on three (3) outcomes: building leadership capacity, increasing diversity, and modernizing human resource management and governance.

Among the significant outcomes in 2006–2007 are the following:

Leadership Development Initiative

This program for high potential managers and professionals includes a series of learning and work opportunities intended to encourage the retention and advancement of leaders, and to reduce the impact of turnover of retiring senior personnel.

A central component of the initiative is the Manitoba Strategy/Leadership Program, an intense week-long training and education event that is designed specifically to meet the needs of this civil service. The program is facilitated by leading university personnel and other subject matter experts. Participants are required to fulfill a service-in-return obligation, to share their learning with their department, to provide career guidance or mentoring, and to participate in mutually beneficial renewal-related activities as identified by the Civil Service Commission. Through Career Advisory Panels, participants gain career advice from executive managers, advice that is specifically relevant to their government employment.

Offerings of the Manitoba Strategy/Leadership Program were increased in 2006–2007. As a beneficial consequence, the number of people who have had the opportunity to attend increased to 215, two and a half times more than the total for the previous two years.

New Professionals Network

The New Professionals Network has gained appreciative recognition from other provincial governments. The network promotes information sharing, relationship building and development among those professionals who have recently joined the Manitoba Civil Service, thus encouraging their commitment and retention. Of particular significance is the fact that the 150 members also actively participate in the design and administration of the network, making it both more relevant to them and more sustainable.

Women's Leadership Program

In 2006–2007 the Women's Leadership Program completed a successful 30-participant pilot and became an on-going program. The number of participants will double in 2007–2008. In addition, the program will be made available to more regions of the province.

The purpose of the program is to help women in the civil service achieve their full leadership potential. It supports the employment equity goal of increasing the number of qualified women in higher positions. Any female employee is eligible to participate, provided she aspires to be in a leadership role and is not currently a senior manager. The program has five components: orientation, networking, coaching, career planning and skill development.

Leadership @ All Levels

Leadership @ All Levels is a skill-based development guide or "road map" designed for any employee who aspires to be a supervisor, manager or executive, or who wants to improve upon the leadership skills that are required in their current work. Like the Women's Leadership Program, it successfully completed a pilot stage with 110 employees and their supervisors participating. It is now an on-going program.

Participants in Leadership @ All Levels complete a self-assessment to confirm their leadership strengths. Following a conversation with their supervisor that centers on development needs and interests, the participant prepares a plan tying their career goals with the priorities of their department. Like other related programs offered by the Civil Service Commission, employees are challenged to take responsibility for their development and in return are provided with the support to continually learn.

The Internship and Placement Programs

The many existing programs that have been attracting new, young and diverse employee populations into the civil service were reviewed, revised and, in some case, expanded. These programs have succeeded in attracting exceptionally talented individuals while providing them with the intense orientation and work experience that makes them productive contributors from the beginning of their employment. These programs are: the Management Internship Program (MIP), the Financial Management Development Program (FMDP), the Aboriginal Management Development Program (AMDP), the Aboriginal Public Administration Program (APAP), the Persons with Disabilities Career Assistance Program, and the Career Gateway Program for Visible Minorities.

The Respectful Workplace Policy and the Values and Ethics Guide

The Respectful Workplace Policy is the new corporate policy that describes the responsibilities all employees have for ensuring a civil work environment. The Values and Ethics Guide is also new. It confirms the four core values most important to government employees: act in the public interest, act with integrity, act with respect for others, and act with skill and dedication. The guide describes what employees can do to ensure their actions are consistent with the values.

One thousand (1000) managers and supervisors were orientated to the new policy and guide in an unprecedented and continuing effort to inform every leader in the civil service of these essential human resource directives.

The Learning Policy

The Learning Policy continues to be introduced. It is an important encouragement for every employee to take responsibility for their own development and to take advantage of available learning opportunities that are personally and organizationally beneficial. Those opportunities include work experience, relationship building, formal training and self-directed education.

Corporate Human Resource Action Plan

A plan was developed in 2006-2007 that will modernize human resource management practice in the Manitoba Civil Service. The plan, which will be implemented in 2007–2008, has three goals: improved governance with respect to the delivery of human resource management, transactional reform and shared services. Each goal has a set of specific outcomes to be completed. Collectively, these goals mean that, once achieved, there will be an even more effective human resource community to ensure greater efficiency in staffing, classification and development practices. A group of Deputy Ministers will be responsible for each goal and will be assisted by teams of human resource directors and consultants.

Consulting and Training Services

The Civil Service Commission continued to sponsor, through Organization and Staff Development, consulting and training services that strengthen good human resource practice, encourage a renewed and representative civil service, and promote the best use of employee talent. Organization and Staff Development, a Special Operating Agency within the Civil Service Commission, delivered 683 training workshops or in-department development events in 2006–2007, of which 94 were fully sponsored by the Commission. Of the 8,737 employees that participated, the Commission fully sponsored 1,230 employees. A sample of subjects covered in the workshops and events is: human resource management skills for managers, communicating with Aboriginal people, cultural diversity, employing workers with disabilities, and staffing skills for managers and human resource professionals.

Diversity and Employment Equity Initiatives

The Civil Service Commission continued to take an active leadership role in the area of diversity and employment equity to develop initiatives that best support the diversity and equity goals of government. Diversity and Employment Equity initiatives for 2006-2007, in addition to internship programs, included:

Diversity and Employment Equity Policy – Communication, Consultation and Education

In 2006-2007, the Civil Service Commission continued to communicate, consult and educate departments on the Diversity and Employment Equity Policy. The Commission, in partnership with departmental employment equity coordinators, delivered policy information updates to departmental executive management committees. Information sessions were also delivered to the human resource community and managers. Training in valuing diversity, duty to accommodate and Aboriginal awareness through Organization & Staff Development were provided.

The Aboriginal Employment Strategies project which produced a framework and 23 specific actions to enhance Aboriginal representation within the civil service is being expanded to encompass all four employment equity groups.

The Civil Service Commission continued its involvement with departments and crown corporations to share best practices and programs related to diversity and employment equity. The Commission also worked collaboratively through its involvement on internal and external committees in looking for solutions and opportunities to increase access to participation in the workplace by equity group members.

Annual Diversity and Employment Equity Update Conference

The Civil Service Commission hosted the Annual Diversity and Employment Equity Update Conference for the government human resource and management community on November 22, 2006. At the conference, the Honourable Greg Selinger, Minister Responsible for The Civil Service Act, reconfirmed the Government's support for diversity and employment equity. The agenda included a keynote address delivered by Charlie Coffey, O.C., Executive Vice President of RBC Financial Group and a well known national champion of diversity and employment equity. Also included on the agenda were panel discussions on two themes including: Diversity from a National Perspective and Best Practices in the Manitoba Civil Service. The event concluded with remarks by the Civil Service Commissioner on the future goals of diversity and employment equity.

Dan Highway Diversity and Employment Equity Achievement Award

The Civil Service Commission took the lead, in 2006, in organizing the Dan Highway Diversity and Employment Equity Achievement Award. The award recognizes and celebrates the achievements of individuals or groups within the Manitoba Civil Service who, through their diligence and commitment, are helping to make the civil service become more representative and inclusive by promoting diversity and employment equity in the workplace.

Outreach Activities

The Civil Service Commission continued to engage in active outreach activities in order to promote career opportunities in the civil service with various diversity groups and employment equity organizations as well as universities and colleges. Outreach activities included:

- participation in the Manitoba Business Leadership Network Job Fair for persons with disabilities;
- meetings with organizations representing persons with disabilities;
- participation in the Winnipeg Chamber of Commerce Aboriginal Job Fair;
- participation in the Brandon Aboriginal Job Fair;
- participation in the Rotary Club Career Symposium;
- participation in the Afro-Caribbean Association Job Recruitment Fair;
- ongoing outreach to Aboriginal communities across the Province on behalf of departments that serve Aboriginal people;
- ongoing outreach to organizations representing the visible minority community and employment agencies that work with members of visible minorities and/or immigrant clients;
- ongoing participation in conferences and committees relating to increasing the representation and improving the distribution of women in government at all levels; and
- ongoing consultations with organizations representing persons with disabilities to identify candidates for employment opportunities and assess any specific accommodation requirements.

Sustainable Development Initiatives

The Civil Service Commission is a small department whose operations are primarily housed within three office building locations in Winnipeg. During 2006-2007, the Commission placed even greater emphasis on environmental sound practice by emphasizing use of reusable cups and providing for more and more accessible recycle bins. As well, there was continued use of re-cycled paper in photocopiers and all computer printers; two-sided printing of documents, maximizing toner life and the use of re-cycled toner cartridges for all computer printers; and continued work to investigate and implement the appropriate disposal of recyclable items such as cans, newspapers and plastics in conjunction with a government-wide solution.

The Civil Service Commission Board continues to review all appeal decisions, once issued to ensure consistency and common understanding of the issues determined. The Commission Board maintains an index and summary of decisions for reference by individual appeal boards and parties to an appeal. Appeal issues determined during 2006-2007 included classification, selection and disciplinary action. A number of appeals submitted were resolved without requiring a hearing following discussions between the parties and their representatives. The Commission Board continues to encourage the practice of pre-hearing discussions between the parties in hopes of early resolution of matters in dispute. In January 2006, the Commission Board introduced a new procedure requiring the parties to an appeal to submit the Agreed Book of Documents to the Commission Board five days prior to the start of an appeal hearing,

EMPLOYEE ASSISTANCE PROGRAM (EAP)

Overview

The Employee Assistance Program (EAP) is responsible for ensuring that self-referred civil servants receive help with a variety of personal and interpersonal problems impacting negatively on their home or work life. The program accomplishes this by providing counselling and interventions that address problems that interfere with effective work performance and the well-being of employees, (e.g. marital and family difficulties, psychological concerns such as stress, depression, and grief, as well as workplace conflicts, trauma and substance abuse).

Results

The EAP experienced a total of 3,697 employee contacts inclusive of all direct clinical services as well as other program services of a non-clinical nature. Clinical services were provided to a total of 2,311 employees based on 1,842 total active cases and 1,419 new case openings. These total figures include the 1,649 government employees who utilized the clinical services of the EAP reflected in the 966 new case openings and 1,260 total active cases from within the Provincial Civil Service. To date 36 interns have completed the program and have been placed in civil service positions throughout government. A twelfth intake of interns will begin in May 2007.

Since 2002, 30 students have participated in the summer program with 11 students participating the summer of 2006.

Aboriginal Management Development Program (AMDP)

The Aboriginal Management Development Program is a two-year program to train and develop Aboriginal civil service employees in order that they may successfully compete for professional and managerial career opportunities within the civil service. Explanations:

1. Increase reflects 16.00 incremental FTEs for new Aboriginal and Visible Minority and succession planning programs approved in the 2003-2004 estimates. No funding was provided to the Civil Service Commission as all resource requirements were provided by participating departments.
2. Reorganized total includes the transfer of $6.0 to Science, Technology, Energy and Mines for Amortization Expense – Hardware and Transition.
3. The increase in 2004-2005 is a result of various items. In 2004-2005, salary costs were higher due to the HR Professional Officer Series reclassification and also due to decreased vacancies in the Internship Programs. The Leadership Development Initiative (LDI) saw increased activity within the Initiative which resulted in higher costs over the previous year. Finally, costs for the SAP Qualifications and Requirements module were expensed as expenditures did not meet the capitalization criteria.

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION – PERFORMANCE MEASURES

The following section provides information on key performance measures for the department for the 2006-2007 reporting year. This is the second year in which all Government of Manitoba departments have included a Performance Measurement section, in a standardized format, in their Annual Reports. That process was begun in 2005 with the release of the document, Reporting to Manitobans on Performance, 2005 Discussion Document, which can be found at www.gov.mb.ca/finance/performance.

Performance indicators in departmental Annual Reports are intended to complement financial results and provide Manitobans with meaningful and useful information about government activities, and their impact on the province and its citizens.

Your comments on performance measures are valuable to us. You can send comments or questions to mbperformance@gov.mb.ca.
