(A look At>What’s New)

Refer to the official volumes of the Commercial Vehicle Drivers Hours of Service Regulations, made under the Motor Vehicle Transport Act
History

- Current regulations were first introduced as a countermeasure to fatigue in the late 80’s and were based on the American hours of service rules.

- Hours of Service refers to legal limitations on the hours a commercial vehicle driver can drive/work for a motor carrier on a daily/weekly basis.
Objective of the New Rules

The main objective of the new Regulations is to reduce the risk of fatigue-related commercial vehicle collisions by providing drivers with the opportunity to obtain additional rest.
The new rules incorporate current sleep and fatigue research that takes into consideration the body's circadian rhythm, driver's health (opportunity to obtain restorative sleep), irregular work shifts and sleep deprivation.
Issues under Current HOS Rules

There must be greater emphasis upon rest. The Current HOS rules:

- are not based on a day (24 hour period);
- allows 16 hours of driving in a ‘day’;
- allows 26 hours of driving in a 30 hour period (using off duty time reduction);
- places no limit on a drivers work shift;
- would permit a driver to work everyday; and
- forces Driver and Carrier alone to assume all responsibility for compliance.
Factors of Driver Fatigue

- Number of hours awake
- Irregular working hours
- Health of the driver
- Work load and practices
- Time of day and/or night
- Insufficient or poor quality sleep
Principal problems with current rules

Little rest, long working hours and irregular rest periods.

- Length: 36 hours
- Off-duty: 21 hours
- Driving: 13 hours
- Work: 15 hours
The New Hours of Service

- The new federal regulation has been enacted and will be proclaimed on January 1, 2007.

- Manitoba plans to adopt these new regulations to mirror the federal hours of service rules.

- Hours of Service regulations are spelled out in federal legislation under the Motor Vehicle Transportation Act (MVTA), applicable to extra-provincial operations.

The Major Changes

1. require/increase minimum daily off-duty time by 25% (8hrs to 10hrs)
2. reduce daily driving time by 18% (16 hrs to 13 hrs)
3. eliminate 8 day cycle
4. increase 7 day cycle to 70 hours
5. eliminate the “Short Change” (once-a-week)
6. allow flexibility with use of 2 hour deferral provision every 2nd day
7. restrict driver’s work shift to 16 hours

Work-Shift

Application of Work-Shift Over 2 Days

- Work Shift ≤ 16
- Driving ≤ 13
- No driving after 14 hours on duty
Deferral of Off Duty

Current Rule

- May reduce the 8-consecutive hour off-duty period to a minimum of 4 hours- once in a 7 day period

Rules

- 48 hour averaging allows a driver to reduce the daily off duty requirement of 10 hours by up to 2 hours provided the 2 hours is not part of the 8 consecutive hours
- This time is added to the 8 consecutive hours on the second day
- This provision may be exercised every 2nd day if a driver chooses.
Time Deferral (Up to 2 hours per day)

Driver has ‘deferred’ 2 hours from Day #1 to Day #2

Notes:

1) The 2 hours ‘deferred’ from Day #1 are added to the 8-hour rest period on the following day (Day #2 - 1400-1600)

2) On Day #2 – Must still have the 2 ‘Off-Duty’ Hours that are not part of any mandatory 8-hour off-duty block (0300-0400) & (0900-1000).
Cycles

Current Rule
◆ Must be in compliance with 1 of the 3 cycles which are:
  • 60 hours/7 days,
  • 70 hours/8 days,
  • 120 hours/14 days (24-hour off-duty prior to 75th hour on-duty)
◆ Switching allowed

New!

Rules
◆ Two cycles (must elect one):
  • Cycle 1 is 70 hours/7 days,
  • Cycle 2 is 120 hours/14 days (also must take 24 consecutive hours off-duty prior to accumulating 70 hours of on-duty time)
◆ Cycle switching only allowed after completing required off-duty period
  • Cycle 1: 36 consecutive hours off duty
  • Cycle 2: 72 consecutive hours off duty
