The Combative Sports Commission (formerly Manitoba Boxing Commission) was incorporated under the provisions of the Province of Manitoba by a proclamation dated October 16, 1993. The purpose of the Combative Sports Commission is to regulate professional boxing and mixed martial arts (MMA) matches in the Province of Manitoba in accordance with regulations as set out in the Boxing Act.

Responsibilities:

The Commission regulates all contests or exhibitions of boxing and MMA, including the licensing and supervision of ring officials, boxers, and promoters. This includes issuing event permits and collecting fees payable by promoters of professional boxing or mixed martial arts contests or exhibitions. The Commission is also empowered to hold hearings and order fines of up to $10,000.00 for contraventions of the Act. The decision in 2012 to officially change the name of the Commission was based on the fact that most of the regulated professional events in Manitoba are now MMA as opposed to boxing events.

Membership:

The Act provides that the Commission is to consist of three members including the Chair, all to be appointed by Order-in-Council. There are no restrictions on the duration of appointments or on the reappointment of members.

Terms are normally for two or three years. Members hold office until their successors are appointed.
