

The Portage Diversion Operations:

The Portage Diversion is no longer operating for ice management on the Lower Assiniboine.

The diversion channel will be used to maintain a flow below 10,000 cfs on the Assiniboine River downstream of the reservoir.

This method of operation will continue for the remainder of the open water season.