To whom it may concern;

There is plans for further expansion at the Mangin Bros Dairy, what concerns us the most is the water situation in our area. Within a mile there are three dairy farms, we are one of them that depend on our wells to supply water. Our wells all lined up within a half mile. To sustain all the surrounding farms, there should be a pipeline plan to support expansions. The risk is that in this small area, a farm could easily affect the other, there needs to be a sustainable plan to move ahead without destroying what already exists. I have served on the Manitoba provincial milk board for 13 years and understand the industry well. We have been also dairy farmers for over 40 years and the next generation also need protection of major resources. I totally support our industry and want our farms to be successful. If you want more clarity or information, call me at _____, thanks.
